New frame design!

1 1/8" - 1.5" tapered head tube

New RST A29 TNL fork

Alex DP20 eyeletted rims

Hayes MX-5 mechanical disc brakes

Midnight Blue

FEATURES/BENEFITS

Same frame as the Exile COMP, so you get the same great handling characteristics with a tapered head tube & S-shaped down tube for increased frontal strength, and sloping curved top tube for low standover.

RST's A29 TnL 29er fork offers magnesium lowers for light weight, 30mm stanchions for a stiff, solid ride and the Turn-n-Lock lockout for a climbing advantage.

Shimano's M361 crankset features Hyperdrive SG-X chainrings for exceptionally precise & quick shifting performance and Octalink splined arms for a solid bottom bracket connection.

Shimano's HG40 8-speed cassette offers the same precise shifting attributes of their higher priced 9-speed cog sets, with patented tooth profiles and shifting ramps.

Hayes MX-5 disc brakes feature a lightweight aluminum die-cast design with independent inner and outer pad adjustment for easy set-up. High wear-rate pads with enhanced friction material stop great in all conditions and provide solid power.

Alex DP20 rims feature a double-wall pinned joint construction with stainless single eyelets improving seating of the nipple head and strengthening the rim bed for a better built wheel.

The Exile Sport's cockpit includes a 31.8 over-sized, bar and stem for stiffer, more solid steering & handling and a 31.6mm seat post for a firmer pedaling platform.

Our Jamis XC saddle features a long, narrow shell that offers multiple, efficient pedaling positions with a full length pressure relief channel for a more comfortable platform and strong-but-light chromoly rails.

The Geax AKA is a versatile tire for all types of terrain with lower profile knobs in the center for low rolling resistance and side knobs directly derived from their aggressive Gato tire for grip.
